

Shaking up Windows

Do you ever end up with multiple windows open at the same time while using your computer? Do you ever wish you could minimize all but the one you're working on without having to close them one at a time using the minimize icon? If so, Aero Shake is your answer.

Aero Shake was first introduced with Windows 7 and has been available in all Windows operating systems since then. Aero Shake is simple and fun to use. If you have multiple windows open on your screen and wish to de-clutter your screen quickly simply place your mouse cursor on the title bar of the app you want to remain open on your screen, click AND hold the left mouse button and while holding the left mouse button down rapidly move your mouse back and forth on your mouse pad. All but the app you have clicked on will instantly minimize, leaving only your selected app visible on the screen. To get them all back simply repeat the shaking maneuver and they all reappear.

For more information on Aero Shake check out:

<https://www.lifewire.com/what-is-aero-shake-3506983>